CONFERENCE OBJECTIVE

Developments in the field of computing and informatics are very complex and advances are so rapid that changes are occurring on day to day basis. Within this context a National Conference on Computer Science with the theme of Contemporary Research in Computing and Informatics (CRCI-2017) is being organized by SRMS Trust Institution, Bareilly & Lucknow with an objective to provide a forum to stakeholders (researchers, academicians, students & industrialist) to meet and share the latest ideas, views and new findings in the field of computing and informatics. It is also intended to provide an opportunity for students and researchers to meet, discuss, and learn with experts in the related field. The conference will be held on 25th March 2017. During the conference research papers will be presented along with plenary sessions. It will promote a high level of interaction among participants in theoretical, experimental, and applied concepts in the field of computing and informatics.
